Hospitality

Go Short welcomes many filmmakers and professionals from the film world every year. As a hospitality volunteer you will support the Industry team in receiving and guiding these international guests. For example, you will help with issuing festival passes and answer questions from international guests at the Industry desk. During some shifts you will accompany filmmakers at dinners, drinks or other events. During your shift you mainly work behind the Industry desk where you help filmmakers find their way during Go Short and answer questions from international guests

You:

- Can communicate clearly in English (other languages are plus)
- You are proficient with database programs such as Excel or learn quickly
- Are customer-friendly
- Are stress resistant

Working hours: during the festival, in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Entrance Coordinator

As an entrance coordinator, you are an important face of the festival to the public. You welcome the audience, scan tickets and refer people to the right hall. You direct the flow of the audience and communicate with the venue managers in LUX about the start and end of the program in the venue. You can be flexibly deployed where you are needed by the venue manager.

You have:

- You have an open appearance
- Communicates with audience in a professional manner
- Problem solving ability
- Good social skills

NOTE: In addition to the volunteer meeting prior to the festival, there will be another tour of LUX for room managers, venue managers and entrance coordinators. It is very helpful if you can attend this. Date to follow.

Working hours: during the festival, in the morning, afternoon and evening.
